I-sys Corporation Merger with Blueprint Wiring Systems expands Services in Tennessee

CHARLESTON, SC – September 28, 2009, President Bill Ohlendorf of Charleston-based i-sys corporation announced a merger between i-sys and Blueprint Wiring Systems of Knoxville, TN. Ohlendorf comments, “This merger expands our services area, better serving our customers in Eastern Tennessee.”

Blueprint Wiring Systems: For the past eight years, President John Isaac has expertly positioned Blueprint Wiring Systems, Inc. as one of Eastern Tennessee’s leading low-voltage communications and security systems integrators. In addition to Blueprint’s team of dedicated technicians and employees, John personally brings to the table more than twenty five years of know-how in the communications industry and a Masters Degree in technology and engineering. John’s expertise also includes the successful launch and management of ICX Online, Inc., one of Eastern Tennessee’s first commercial Internet service providers.

i-sys Corporation: According to Ohlendorf, “When i-sys was founded more than a decade ago, we built the company around two core values... a passionate commitment to customer service, and a business model that meets or exceeds the global demand for integrated security, environmental, communications and fire safety solutions. Whether a business is across the street or on another continent, we will invest the time to understand how your business works-- in every room of every building-- at every campus or building complex.”

Merger of Strengths: This merger capitalizes on the strengths of both companies providing new and existing customers with expanded resources for integrated security, communication and environmental solutions. Blueprint Wiring Systems will remain structured in its organization, supported by additional staff from i-sys Corporation. John Isaac will continue in his role as principal, while i-sys’ Vice President of Sales, Mike Prysock will oversee corporate sales.

Continued Commitment to Customer Service: With the expanded service area in Eastern Tennessee, i-sys will continue to provide customer service second-to-none, our industry-leading, security and environmental solutions and a wide array of integrated sound and communications systems. We take pride in being customer-focused and the entire Knoxville staff is committed to exceeding your expectations. We won’t just do the work... we’ll offer you solutions. You can count on us to...

- Handle the job (any job).
- Keep you informed.
- Give you options.
- Communicate alternatives.
- Provide you with predictable costs
- A quick response and maximum equipment life.
- Help you operate your facility to its maximum potential.

Bill Ohlendorf concludes, “Whether our customers need a person, a truck or a team, they can count on i-sys. We’ll be there whenever and wherever we are needed... in Knoxville, Tennessee or anywhere in the world!” Blueprint Writing Systems, now i-sys Corporation will remain at its current location, 1727 Amherst Road in Knoxville, TN.
